Youths in Jail After Four Days Of Wild Thrills

Keen Automobile and Drive to North Carolina—Charged With Having Blackjacked William G. Schaffner, of Saugerties Road.

Five days of wild thrills ended Thursday night for two Hudson youths when they were arrested at Catskill and brought back to the Ulster county jail on a charge of having blackjacked William G. Schaffner, who conducts a gasoline pump on the Saugerties road a short distance beyond the West gate crossing.

Two weeks ago Peter Shupa, John Becker and Albert Smith, three Hudson youths, picked up three girls, figures of the girls' reform school at Hudson and in Shupa's automobile went to Philadelphia. They then went to Yonkers, where two of the girls left the party. The rest went to Lake Charlotte, near Hudson, where they procured a cottage. The party then went to the cottage, where they were to go to his home. While living at the cottage for a week it is charged the men stole silk and silverware from the home of Mrs. Valley.

They decided to go to Sanford, N. C., and being without Shupa's car, Becker and Smith, it is charged, stole a Buick, robbed the till of a garage in Hudson, stole some gas and oil and made the trip south. The money amounted to $1,000.

After spending some time in the south, the two started for Hudson, allegedly committing several robberies on their way. Their escapade ended with the assault of William G. Schaffner, gasoline station proprietor on the Saugerties road.

They were arrested by Corporal H. A. Hector and J. L. Kline of the State Troopers at Catskill and brought to the Ulster county jail. A hearing will be held before Justice Jennings in the town of Ulster this afternoon on the assault charge. The Hudson county charge will be preferred later.

Used Blackjack.
About 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening the two youths pulled up at the gas station of William Schaffner and asked for gasoline. The gas was put in the tank and they then called for a quart of oil. While one of them was being put in the car one of the youths struck Mr. Schaffner on the head with a blackjack, dropping him to the ground. The car then sped away but Mr. Schaffner had seen the number of the car and secured the authorities when he regained possession of his senses. The youths were seen running away from the scene.

After driving the Buick a short distance toward Kingston the two turned around and headed north. The sheriff's office was notified of the act and the number of the car was given. A general alarm was sent out to apprehend the driver of the car and State troopers were posted along the road to watch for the car. However the car had passed through the cordon of Troopers which was thrown about the country but the young men came to grief at Catskill where word had been sent. Shortly after the affair on the Saugerties road it was learned that a gas station at Port Ewen had been entered and cigarettes and other articles taken. Sergeant Jack Lockhart at Highland was notified as was Sergeant James J. Cunningham. They immediately ordered all available Troopers on the road and a close watch was kept.

It was not long after word was received from Catskill stating that the car and the occupants had been halted there. Deputy Sheriff Ralph Constable and Sergeant Cunningham and Trooper Weeks immediately went to Green county and brought back the two young men. The girl was held at Catskill and will be returned to Hudson.

Reached North Carolina.
In a statement made later the two young men said after stealing the car they had driven south and had gone as far as North Carolina. On the road they secured gasoline by breaking into gas stations and stealing what they needed. They told of taking the two girls as far as Yonkers and dropping them there in order to escape detection after taking the Buick car they stole plates from a Ford car at Hudson and transferred them to the Buick.

Later the Hudson police notified the local authorities that they had arrested Peter Shupa of Hudson who it was alleged was the third member of the party but who left the party after going a short way. All three have been in trouble before. Mr. Schaffner was treated at the Kingston Hospital for the injuries suffered when he was struck by the blackjack which it is alleged was used by young Becker. He later left for home. Had not Mr. Schaffner noted the license number of the car prior to his being rendered senseless the youths probably would have continued their wild ride for some time to come before being detected and placed in jail.

Licenses Revoked Speakers Stress The Importance Of Registration

Nine residents of this vicinity were affected by the action of Charles A. Harrett, motor vehicle commissioner, when he revoked or suspended 654 certificates of automobile registration and driving licenses during the two weeks ended October 7.

The revocations were Harvey Wood, 11 Hurley avenue, Kingston; John Lucas, Alsen; Robert W. Kerr, Catskill; Albert Platt, Shandaken; Elmer Byrne, Platte Clove, all for driving while intoxicated; and David Battaglia, of Monticello for leaving the scene of an accident without reporting.

Three persons received suspensions on different charges. Joseph Friedman, Kerhonkson, for the use of improper plates; Leonard Partridge, Beach Dam Stock Farm, Warden, charged with driving while intoxicated; and Henry Wynn, 27 West Chestnut street, Rhinebeck, unlicensed operator.

In the Albany district there were 80 revocations and 47 suspensions. New York city and vicinity had 129 revocations and 157 suspensions and in other parts of the state there were 233 revocations and 144 suspensions.

President Shows Indifference to Senate Tariff Bill

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP).—Indifference to the tariff bill as it is now being written by the Senate and the possibility of obtaining more beneficial import duties on agricultural products through the machinery of the present law are leading President Hoover to the view that the tariff debate should not be extended into the regular session of Congress.

In fact, it is quite improbable that the Chief Executive will ask for such legislation in his message to be sent to Congress early in December at the outset of the regular session, although it now appears virtually certain that the special session will end without the enactment of a tariff bill.

In the face of a charge uttered by a Republican member of the Senate, Johnson of California, that administration leaders, with the exception of Chairman Smoot of the finance committee are filibustering the bill, Smoot was on record today with a promise to ask for night sessions as a last hope of obtaining a final disposition of the tariff measure before the close of the special session. Such a move, however, is opposed by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, and Senator Borah of Idaho, the spokesman for the independent group of western Senators, which is opposing the bill.

The President's dissatisfaction with the Senate bill is no secret in well informed circles here. His indifference is due in large part to the elimination of the flexible provisions of the recent law under which the Chief Executive is empowered, after an investigation by the Tariff Commission, to raise or decrease rates by fifty per cent.

Many leaders of the House and Senate believe he would veto a tariff bill denying the Presidency this power. Mr. Hoover is opposed too, to frequently recurring general revisions of the tariff, believing that they have an unsettling effect on business conditions. In the flexible provisions he sees a means of avoiding them and still making tariff changes necessitated by shifting economic conditions. He has already acted to relieve some portions of agriculture, and although the present arrangement is cumbersome, it is believed he would prefer it to no flexible tariff machinery at all.

Johnson's charge of an administration filibuster was made in the Senate late yesterday, after the day had been devoted to debating an amendment establishing a consumers' council to appear before the Tariff Commission on behalf of the public. The amendment was approved, 58 to 11.

Smoot called attention after the vote to the fact that five hours had been given over to discussing the proposal and asked quicker action on phases of the bill to be considered in the future.

Johnson immediately declared that the administration leaders, who had opposed the amendment, knew at the outset of the debate what the outcome would be and could have saved five hours of the Senate's time by permitting the amendment to come to a vote then.

In view of this, he asserted, it was evident that those in charge of the bill, including the Senator from Utah (Smoot), were "trying to filibuster against this tariff bill."

Smoot replied that he would ask for night sessions as a means of expediting debate.

Most Important Thing at This Point in Political Campaign Is to Get Out Voters Registered—Speakers Stress Point at Republican Club Meeting Thursday Evening

The most important thing to be accomplished at this point in the fall political campaign is getting the voters out to register today and Saturday, the last days of registration, declared the various speakers at the weekly meeting of the Republican Club held Thursday evening in Pythian Hall, Broadway and Thomas street. Another meeting will be held next Thursday evening.

Attorney J. Edward Conway presided at the club meeting and said that it had been decided to devote the evening to a discussion of campaign issues and for that reason he had asked the speaker to be secured for the evening.

City Clerk George W. Moore, the first speaker of the evening, said that the Republican party's prospects looked very bright but the fact that victory seemed assured should not cause the members of the club to relax in their efforts to put the state across. Two years ago the Republican party had elected practically the same state, and the men who were elected at that time had two years experience and were better qualified today for the office they held than they were two years ago.

He said that it would prove a valuable matter to name three candidates who were better qualified than Mayor Dempsey, Alderman-at-large C. May Everett and City Judge Augustus Shufeldt, he had been in close touch with them for the past two years and had found them efficient and always on the job.

Alderman-at-large C. May Everett said that Mayor Dempsey had accepted to be present at the meeting but had been suddenly called to New York city on business. Mr. Everett said that the work that had been accomplished during the past two years of Mayor Dempsey and in closing urged that every effort be expended Friday and Saturday in getting the voters out to register for the fall election.

Judge Shufeldt spoke briefly of the work that had been accomplished and also urged that every effort be made to get the voters out to register. Unless a voter was registered he could not vote at the November election. Judge Shufeldt also spoke briefly of the work of the city court and in passing called attention to the fact that during his term of office he had 4,500 cases brought to his attention. Of course, he had made mistakes. He realized he had made a mistake, he had immediately taken steps to rectify the mistake.

A judge of the city court, he said, was blamed for what he did and for what he did not do. He was said to be too lenient or else he was too severe in handing down sentences. Several people had told him that he was too lenient in enforcing penalties against those who were arrested for public intoxication as they noted by the newspapers that in some cases he had suspended sentence. Judge Shufeldt explained briefly why in some cases he imposed a fine while in other cases he had suspended sentence. He said that some cases of public intoxication were brought to his attention where the offender was a married man with a family of children, and worked for a wage of from $3 to $5 a day. If he fined that man or jailed him he was not punishing the man as much as he was the woman who needed the money. If the man was jailed the family would have to be supported by the city. On the other hand there was the man who had no one depending upon him for their support. If he could afford to go out and get drunk he could afford to pay a fine. In closing Judge Shufeldt urged the members of the club to do all that was possible Friday and Saturday to get out the voters for registration.

City Treasurer E. T. Smith called attention to the sound financial condition of the city which he said was due entirely to the business-like administration that had been given the city by Mayor Dempsey.

The last speaker of the evening was Attorney John B. Starley who spoke briefly on registration.

Must Print Name Twice.

Albany, Oct. 15 (AP).—The Court of Appeals today ruled that the New York City Board of Elections must print the name of Supreme Court Justice Stephen C. Sullivan twice on the ballot in the coming election, the name to appear once as the Republican candidate and again as the candidate for the Square Deal party.

Dies from Kerosene Explosion.

Cornwall, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP).—Mrs. L. E. Bangle Gifford, 45, mother of two children, died at the Bloomingburg, Pa. State Hospital today of burns received when a can of kerosene she was using to start a fire in the kitchen exploded at her home in Cornwall, Pa., near here exploded.

Explains Fall's Note to Doherty Gives Impressions Of Prime Minister

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP).—Mrs. Carrie Estelle Doherty, wife of Edward L. Doherty, whom the government charges with espionage, today explained her signature had been torn from a note for that amount to the former interior secretary would not be embarrassed if anything happened while she and her husband were en route home.

Wearing a black dress, trimmed in white, she said her husband had told her to keep the signature carefully so it would be available when time came to present the note for payment.

She added she had taken the signature from New York to Los Angeles and put it in a safe deposit box.

Today Mrs. Doherty produced the signature in court. She already had retained defense counsel, put them together and presented the complete note to the jury, which examined it carefully.

Lobby Committee Study U.S. Statutes

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP).—Members of the Caraway lobby investigating committee today examined the federal statutes to determine their application to the case of Charles L. Eyranson, who was employed simultaneously by the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association and by Senator Miriam Bingham as his secretary and advisor on tariff questions.

Meanwhile, additional witnesses were called in the committee's inquiry into the Bingham incident, which already had revealed that Eyranson attended the secret sessions of the Senate finance committee, then engaged in framing the tariff bill, and, at the same time, served as assistant to the president of the manufacturers' organization, seeking tariff increases.

The ultimate purpose of the committee was a thorough disclosure of all phases of the affair and did not contemplate the institution of any legal steps against either Eyranson or Bingham. The statutes affecting the employment of government workers by outside interests were submitted to the committee by Bingham himself, with the claim that they completely exonerated him of any wrong going in the employment of Eyranson. However, some members of the committee, notably Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, were not entirely convinced.

Under Bingham's interpretation of the statutes, they effect only employees of the executive branch of the government, but Walsh contends that by going back to the original law on the subject he has found that it relates to all government employees. A government worker is prohibited, he said, from accepting private pay for work relating to his government duties and also from paying a private individual for government work.

Eyranson stood first on the list of witnesses summoned for today's hearing.

RUM RING PAID $30,000 WEEKLY FOR PROTECTION

Newark, N. J., Oct. 15 (AP).—The "Little Black Book" found among the records of the international liquor smuggling syndicate broken up by a series of raids Wednesday revealed to Prohibition Administrator William J. Calhoun today that $30,000 was paid weekly by the organization for protection.

Calhoun said one of the books showed weekly disbursements to public officials in New Jersey, New York and elsewhere during the months the ring operated on a scale that resulted in the entry of $2,600,000 in profits in its books. In addition to these payments, the official said, the syndicate paid dividends of from 1 to 20 per cent on the investments of its "Board of Directors." The sum varied according to seniority.

The book containing notations of bribes, Calhoun said, revealed no names, but did mention municipalities and titles of officials.

Salesmen's entries, recorded on sales slips abandoned by a butcher, bore the names or nicknames of the selling agents, some of whom apparently knew little of spelling.

"Bull," the only identification on the slips of one of the salesmen, sold quantities of "Apprecotti" and "Champain."

Mallory Hatters At Victory Ball

The Victory Ball Committee of the American Legion announces that it has secured Les Stevens and his Mallory Hatters for the ball which is to be held here on Armistice night, November 11.

The committee feels that it has engaged one of the best dance orchestras in the country, which is in keeping with the usual practice of the Victory Ball committee.

One of the features of the ball will be the rendition of one of Les Stevens's remarkable tenet-led-time stories, which the Mallory Hatters have made famous over the air.

John Ernie's Imperial Broadcasting Orchestra will be the other orchestra at the ball, which will make for continuous dancing. Mr. Ernie will gather the best local musicians together under his able baton and his ranks will be swelled by several importations, as well.

The entertainment preceding the ball will be something clever and entertaining. A one-act play has been especially written for the Victory Ball by Raymond Knight, author and playwright. Mr. Knight will be master of ceremonies. Included in the cast are Elsie Mae Gordon, celebrated comedienne, Countess Olga Albani, a real Spanish countess, Walter Preston, Police star and the Four Aces, songsters and instrumentalists.

The one-act play will last about an hour and a half, and is entitled, "What a Day at WJZ!" It will be a funny, rollicking take-off on radio life, starting with the setting-up exercises in the morning and ending with the slumber hour at midnight.

This is the eleventh annual ball the local post of the American Legion has given on Armistice night since they were all discharged from Uncle Sam's payroll. On the proceeds of this ball they depend for the maintenance of the American Legion Memorial Building and for carrying on some of their work.

The Patron Ticket Committee reports very encouragingly of a fine public response and indications are that the ball will have the largest patronage met in its history.

Depredations of monkeys at the hill station of Malabar, near Bombay, India, are causing annoyance and anxiety. Cases have been reported where various articles and food have been snatched away from women and children, and in one instance a well organized raid was carried out on a great safe full of fruit. Monkeys abound all over southern India, but it is unusual for them to become so daring as to play the role of hide-and-seek with the people. In many parts of India monkeys, as well as peacocks, are encouraged by Hindus to live in the temple precincts, and often near the idol. Design Long Followed

The ratio 1.618, said to be the mathematical basis for beauty, has been used in residential designs for 3,000 years. It was applied in building the pyramids, and is considered the ideal proportion for living rooms, window openings, glass lights in windows and so on. It is used by all designers in determining length in proportion to width.

This number, 1.618, is a puzzle. If you multiply it by itself, the result is 2.618. Multiply this by 1.618 and the result is 4.236. Is it coincidence that this last power of 1.618 is equal to the sum of the two preceding? A series of successive powers of this number carries out this same truth, any one power being equal to the sum of the two preceding.

Biblical Unicorn

In Latin and Greek literature the unicorn is a fabulous beast having the head and body of a horse the hind legs of an antelope, the tail of a lion, and the beard of a goat. Its chief feature was a long, sharp and twisted horn set in the middle of the forehead. Obviously the word "unicorn" as used in early translations of the Bible refers to a different animal. It probably refers to the Urus, an extinct species of buffalo. The revised version uses "wild ox" in the places where the King James version employs "unicorn."

SCHOOLDAY PROBLEMS

Schooldays mean problems for Mother as well as for the children.

There is the matter of keeping school clothes clean and presentable, and that means frequent washing, often at short notice.

The REX PATROL AUTOMATIC WATER HEATER meets this problem with its supply of hot water always ready for use.

With the new rates now available for water-heating, the cost of a constant hot water supply is surprisingly small.

Y's Men's Club
Entertains Guests

The large dining hall of the Y. M. C. A. was filled to overflowing Tuesday evening at the regular meeting of the Kingston Y's Men's Club as they had as their guests the members of the Kingston Ministerial Society, members of the board of trustees and board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. for the purpose of formally introducing and welcoming the new members of the Y. M. C. A. staff.

The occasion was a memorable one. Everybody joined heartily in singing the old favorite songs under the leadership of Tom Rowland, with Dean Bittner at the piano, and it wasn't long before everyone felt the irresistible enthusiasm that always attends the Y's Men's meetings.

After enjoying the fine dinner prepared by the Misses Davenport and served by Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. N. Levan Haver, Mrs. Earl Leemon and Mrs. Stanley Winne, President Merion McLoughlin dispensed with the regular business and turned the meeting over to Clarence S. Rowland, president of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Rowland is introducing the general secretary, Clarence Schoonmaker, said he did not feel that he was introducing a stranger to the men as Mr. Schoonmaker was a Kingston man, having been very active in the local Y's Men's work, who after leaving Kingston was identified with the Y's Men at Rochester and later at Gloversville and returned to Kingston with the recommendation as being one of the best Y. M. C. A. secretaries in the state of New York. Mr. Schoonmaker was given a rousing reception by the men. He said he was happy to return to Kingston and especially to the Y's Men, as he held for him many precious memories. He said he recognized many of his old friends among those present and recalled especially the many happy hours he had spent in the Bible class taught in the Y's Men by the Rev. Arthur S. Cole and he was deeply indebted to the Rev. Frank B. Seely, as he was married by him.

"The Y. M. C. A. has branched out considerably since its inception in London a number of years ago," said Mr. Schoonmaker, "until today it is established throughout the entire world. Besides the work for the men it has added the boys' department and the physical department. The aim of the Y's Men is and always has been to point the way to right living to the boys and men of the community. Methods may change but the aims and ideals never. The presence of so many ministers tonight speaks louder than words can express the interest taken by the ministry of Kingston in the Y's Men. It shall always be our purpose," continued Mr. Schoonmaker, "to deserve that faith and I pledge you with your continued support the staff will do their utmost to help carry on the Master's work."

Mr. Schoonmaker then introduced Neland H. Fuller, boys' work secretary, and Guy Allen, physical director, both of whom he said came to Kingston with the very highest recommendations and he felt confident as the days went by their real worth would be felt in the community. He said he liked them both and felt that the people of Kingston would like them too. Both Fuller and Allen spoke briefly, expressing their desire to be of service to the community and pledged themselves to give their very best efforts to advance the Y. M. C. A. work in Kingston. They, too, received a hearty reception from the men.

Mr. Schoonmaker said there was one other member of the staff whom they all liked and that was Burton Van Dusen, who had been associated with the Y for some time past and was of inestimable value to the new staff.

President Rowland then called upon Leslie Thompson, a member of the New York State Association, who congratulated the directors of the Y's Men on their selection of such a splendid staff and said he predicted that the future held wonderful prospects, as he knew every member of the staff personally and knew of the splendid work they had already accomplished.

The Rev. James Leach, of the Warren Street M. E. Church, vice president of the Kingston Ministerial Society, in the absence of the president, the Rev. C. O. Romero, who was absent from town, gave a stirring address in which he showed how much the work of a Y. M. C. A. secretary was like that of a pastor. On behalf of the Kingston Ministerial Society he assured Secretary Schoonmaker and his co-workers of their hearty cooperation.

As a fitting climax to the evening's program Charles Ramsey, who for a goodly number of years has been a sincere supporter of the Y's Men, was forced to rise to his feet while the room rang with the cheers of the men.

Among those present besides the large number of Y's Men were the following clergymen: F. H. Neal, Lucas Boeve, O. E. Brandt, John Anthony, Charles G. Ellis, Arthur S. Cole, James Leach, C. H. Polhemus, Philip Goetts, Thomas S. Bond, Frank B. Seely, George B. Mead, and A. A. Vradenburg, and the following members of the board of trustees and board of directors: Chester A. Baltz, Henry B. Wesley, Alonzo K. Rose, Pearl Carey, Clarence S. Rowland, David W. Terry, Emil G. Boesneck, William O'Reilly, Harry DuBois, Frey, William B. Byrne, James Scott and Ernest LeFevre.

After the meeting the Y's Men and their friends enjoyed a delightful social and dance at their Charles Ramsey Lodge at Lake Glenierie. Paul Zuccer and his orchestra furnished the music.

Curie Visit Links 'Pure' And Commercial Science

During her visit to this country, Mme. Marie Curie (inset) will deliver the Hepburn chemistry laboratory (below) at St. Lawrence Uni-

New York (A).—Mme. Marie Curie's visit to the United States is more than the coming of the world's most distinguished woman scientist to receive a $50,000 gift from her American admirers.

For one thing, it reveals how closely "pure abstract" science is intertwined with everyday business.

One of her hosts is Owen D. Young, internationally famous for his reparations settlement. Yet he receives the Frenchwoman in his capacity as a leader of science. As one of the heads of the General Electric company he is concerned with the company's laboratories at Schenectady.

As an alumnus of St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y., he will take Madame Curie there October 25 and 26 to receive an honorary Ph.D. degree and to dedicate the new chemistry laboratory, a gift of Mrs. A. Barton Hepburn. The American present to Madame Curie will be either a gram of radium or its equivalent in a check for $50,000, as she chooses. Herbert Hoover is expected to make the presentation early in November. Years before the President became interested in statecraft, he was elected as a scientist to the National Academy, blue-ribbon scientific organization of the new world.

Madame Curie is invited as a guest at Detroit October 21, at the Ford-Edison light jubilee dinner. This function is more than simply an honor to Edison; it is one of a series of celebrations sponsored by huge organizations of capital which deal not only in commercial electricity, but seek the scientific use of phase.

Another phase of radiation is radium, discovered by the Curies in 1898, and radium's uses seem only in their infancy.

So live that at the age of eighty you can brag of something besides having worn the same collar button for 61 years.

One of the older 18-day diets, which doesn't include grapefruit, is when a family of three has to clean up a 15-pound turkey.

Having taken up the suntan vogue in a big way, one of our local loafers is applying among art collectors for work as a bronze.

"Asbestos frocks are as lustrous as silk, light as cotton and wear like wood." And you can put a lighted pipe in the pocket.

A western goat damaged an airplane by munching the wings. We should imagine, though, the white meat would be on the fuselage.

If people do not like the crowded conditions in federal prisons, it is easy to keep out of them.

Probably if the full truth were known, there is a vitamin G or H in fried chicken and gravy.

Parents do not have to worry about the children's setting up exercises in the morning. It's the getting up.

If the sleeping car porters feel insulted when offered tips at least they pocket their insults very gracefully.

Do we understand that the under-stung pipe is to be considered the sign and seal of the new type of diplomat?

ELEANOR GUNN ON FASHIONS

It is Now Open Season for the Lumber Jacket Suit.

New York.—Fashion has always delighted in contradictions hence the introduction just at the moment suits have become formalized, of the lumber jacket suit which is nothing if not informal.

Suits made on the bloused lines of the lumber jacket are included in smartest showings and have been accepted for autumnal outdoor activities not necessarily staged out of town. The most approved fabric combinations are tweed and suede or tweed and jersey. The lumber jacket presents an entirely new idea in suits and one that promises further development.

Also in sports vein are jersey blouses about which one hears so much this season. These were doubtless inspired by the success of the sweater as a complement to the suit, and by the favoritism accorded woolen dresses. Smart shops have varieties of jersey blouses on view, most of them being bright in tone,
with red leading.

Tweeds have refused to be confined to sports circles and are being used in town especially when rather heavily furled. The short, or three-quarter tweed ensemble, with fur trimmings has developed into a general favorite. It is at once smart and practical. Now that tweeds are so brightly colored they have a more general appeal. While black is given as the ultra smart choice for sports, the average woman retains her preference for color. Shades of red and violet, have joined the ranks of heather and brown.
Beaver is a highly prized fur when used on tweeds or camels hair.

Parent-Teacher School 4 Meeting

Provide Prizes for Scholarship
—Adam and Eva—Mrs. Russell
Gives Report on Trip Meeting.

The Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 4 held its October meeting on Tuesday evening.

The president, Mrs. Oscar Good, will announce that the food sale planned for last week Friday had been postponed to this week Friday and would be held at the close of the afternoon session.

It was reported that Principal Van Valkenburgh needed a coat and hat for the use of callers at his office. The Association voted to supply him with one. The giving out of the horn of the school group was also reported and it was voted to supply the school with either a new horn or a new Victrola.

The matter of the school prizes given by Mrs. Beth Staples for several years, but discontinued since her removal from the city, was discussed. Mrs. Matilda Cordes offered to donate the Regents prize of $2 to the pupil having the highest standing in the Regents examinations held in January and June. This prize is to be called the "Tillie Cordes" prize in memory of Mrs. Cordes' daughter, who was a pupil at No. 4 School at the time of her death.

Miss Marguerite Cordes, secretary of the Federated Council, was present at the meeting. She offered to donate a $5 general average prize to the pupil having the highest average in the grade examinations in January and June. This prize will be called the "Jessie M. Parkhurst" prize in memory of that teacher, who died last spring, while a teacher at No. 4, where she had taught for a number of years. She was an intimate friend of Miss Cordes. The Association voted to take over the Spellman prize of $5, which is given to the pupil having the highest average in spelling for the terms ending in January and June. Pupils from the third to the eighth grade compete for this prize each term.

Miss Cordes spoke for the play "Adam and Eva" to be given at the High School auditorium on Wednesday, October 30, by the School Women's Club. The money gained by this play is to be used for the hospital benefit fund and for educational purposes. Miss Cordes stated that she had seen the play in New York, where it had a wonderfully successful run and "could highly recommend it. In fact, it was at her solicitation that the play was chosen. Miss Cordes also spoke of the prize to be given by the Federated Council to the Association having the best attendance at council meetings and urged the four allowed officers and delegates from No. 4 to compete by being present at each meeting.

Mrs. A. H. Russell, chairman of the Poughkeepsie district of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers, was introduced and gave some of the high lights of the State Convention held at Troy last week, which she attended.

A new state president was elected, Mrs. L. E. Stevenson of 808 North Street, Watertown, N. Y. The convention opened with a banquet on Monday evening, October 7. It was called the "Mrs. David O'Meara Fellowship Dinner." In honor of the first real state president, the first elected president only served for a very short time. The principal address of the evening was on "Bridge Builders on the Highway of Life," given by Mayor Edward E. Cray.

On Monday afternoon the annual meeting of the Middle Atlantic Council was held at the Hotel Troy. This council consists of the presidents of the states of New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia. Reports were given of the work done in each of these states and the delegates to the New York state convention, which was being held at the Hendrick Hudson Hotel, were all invited to this conference.

The regular sessions of the convention opened at 9 a. m. but various classes were held from 8 to 9 a. m. She described the Poughkeepsie district breakfast at which about 40 delegates were present. As chairman of the Poughkeepsie district, Mrs. Russell was presented with a bouquet of roses, a fountain pen and fancy pencil.

The state constitution was revised. The term of officers will be limited to two years, no officer being allowed to succeed herself and there will be seven vice-presidents instead of five formerly. There were 24 associations given certificates as measuring up to the standard of excellence as set forth in the National Handbook. Among them were two from this district, Patterson, Putnam county, and Livingston Manor, Sullivan county.

At one of the sessions the Boy Scouts brought in the flag and led by their chaplain, gave the salute, which was very impressive. The music, furnished mostly by school orchestras, was very pleasing. Mrs. Russell spoke particularly of a kindergarten band of tiny tots who kept perfect time and step as they marched and played their instruments. Among the addresses mentioned by Mrs. Russell were "Our American Speech," by Mrs. James Lawrence Meader, and "What Parents Owe Children," by Dr. Daniel Poling, pastor of Marble Collegiate Church, New York city.

Mrs. R. H. D. Boerker, president of the Federated Council, gave greetings and spoke of Miss Holmes' work with part time sewing school girls and the aid given her by the various P. T. A's. No. 4 voted to donate $5 to Miss Holmes to assist in purchasing materials for this work. Mrs. Boerker also told of the pre-school circle work, of which she is district chairman of the first circle to be formed in Kingston, which is functioning finely, and two other circles about to be formed. Refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

2,500 Poilus on Duty in Paris

Paris, Oct. 18 (AP).—Paris, the goal of many an invading army since the time of Caesar, has not only done away with the three rings of fortifications that encircled her before the great war, but has greatly decreased the troops that once were on constant peace-time duty within her walls.

Before the war the garrison of Paris counted twenty thousand bayonets and four thousand sabres, with the artillery, the engineers and supplementary services bringing the number of men above 35,000. Today only 2,500 poilus are on duty in the capital.

Whenever the peace of the city seems menaced, troops are brought in from the provinces by rail—a hundred men from one town, two hundred from another, and so on.

Twice this year the army has brought battalions to Paris from the country to be ready to aid the police. The first occasion was on May Day, when trouble from the communists was feared. The second time was August 1, for exactly the same reason. Nothing happened on either day.

The troops, for the most part, were kept in the suburbs. It is outside the walls of the city that future troubles, if they come, are likely to be started. The industrial revolution, the housing crisis since the war and other modern developments connected with the growth of Paris itself have brought about a migration from inside the city to its suburbs of a goodly portion of the proletariat. The descendants of the revolutionists who stormed the Bastille in 1789 and the Rue de Rivoli during the commune of 1871 are living in great numbers these days, not in Paris itself, but in the industrial centers surrounding the capital.

work with part time sewing school girls and the aid given her by the various P. T. A's. No. 4 voted to donate $5 to Miss Holmes to assist in purchasing materials for this work. Mrs. Boerker also told of the pre-school circle work, of which she is district chairman of the first circle to be formed in Kingston, which is functioning finely, and two other circles about to be formed. Refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

In a weight-for-age race a horse is handicapped according to his age. Edgar Wallace, writing on the subject, says, "A three-year-old may carry 8 stone 2 pounds, a four or five will carry 9 stone—less the weight of the jockey, of course—but this weighing is further complicated by the distance over which the race is run and the month in which it is run."

OUR DAILY PATTERNS

A Stylish Frock.

6602. Flat crepe in a new shade of brown with trimming of satin is here pictured. Light weight velvet is also suggested, or panne velvet with satin, or printed velvet. A shaped trimming portion is arranged on the front of the skirt, and crosses a hip band. A hip band also trims the back of the skirt, which flares gracefully below the hips. The sleeve is a fitted model. Neck bands lapped from right to left, are finished with the ends, beneath a pointed outline.

This pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. To make the dress for a 38 inch size will require 4 1/2 yards of material 39 inches wide. For neck trimming and tie of contrasting material 1/4 yard will be required, cut crosswise. If made of ribbon the trimming and tie requires 1 1/2 yard. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 2 1/4 yards.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Kingston, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Gives Full Credit To Nu-Erb For New Feeling Of Health

Suffered Kidney Ailments, Nervousness, Constipation After Attack of Flu, Says Nu-Erb Was First Medicine To Help Him.

Vast numbers of people throughout Kingston and vicinity have found what splendid relief is to be had from stomach, kidney, liver and bowel troubles, nervousness, rheumatism and neuritis, through using the new herbal medicine, Dr. French's Nu-Erb and to those who have not yet tried this medicine, the advice is given to talk with the Nu-Erb man at McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall street. Let him tell you of the splendid relief others have had. Let him show you what Nu-Erb is made from and you will surely be convinced that the herbal ingredients from which it is compounded should be highly beneficial to all who use it. As an example of what Nu-Erb is doing, here is the statement of Mr. Thomas F. Dolan, 32 Clinton avenue, Kingston, N. Y.

MR. THOMAS F. DOLAN.

"Nu-Erb has helped me after I have been bothered by several health troubles for the past two years. My kidneys were in a weakened condition. I was called up several times each night. My nerves seemed to be all on edge and I was troubled continually with constipation. I awakened each morning with a bitter, stale taste in my mouth, coated tongue and my complexion was almost a bright yellow."

"I have never put much faith in medicine, but friends of mine advised me to use the Nu-Erb and, it proved that this was just the thing I had been needing, for now after a few weeks, my troubles have practically all disappeared. My kidneys never disturb me at night. My complexion has cleared and Nu-Erb has put an end to that bad taste in my mouth and coated tongue. My nerves are steady and my bowels act regularly every day for the first time in many years. I give full credit to Nu-Erb for this new feeling of health and I will gladly recommend it."

McBride Drug Store, 312 Wall St., is headquarters in Kingston for Dr. French's Nu-Erb. Go see the Nu-Erb man now making his headquarters there and let him explain to you the merits of this remarkable medicine.

Identifies Body Of Jack Kraft

New Orleans, Oct. 16 (AP).—Before an open grave on the shores of the Mississippi, lone Old, sophisticated city girl, zapped, swooned and finally admitted a bullet-riddled body was that of Jack Kraft, New York newspaperman and adventurer, with whom she had started out to see the world.

A small tattoo of an Indian head on the forearm furnished the identification along with a scar on a knee, which George Kraft, older brother of Jack, who had come from New York, said established the identity beyond any doubt.

The sight of the body and the scene of the grave in the sand on the banks of the Mississippi 50 miles below New Orleans did not cause the girl to change her story, she swooned a half dozen times and tempted to fight her way free once out gave officials no additional information as to who killed Kraft.

The grave was a mile below the spot where the body was found, the body was buried in the ground, New Orleans officials said.

How the woman to the grave and returned, how she was subjected to questioning, the girl told the police. She said she was a stewardess, had shot Kraft, but would not reveal her name. She said she was a stewardess, had shot Kraft, but would not reveal her name. She said she was a stewardess, had shot Kraft, but would not reveal her name.

She said both Melchior and Elliott had come to her assistance when Kraft was beating and choking her in a jealous rage. She declared she had seen Kraft being overboard, she could not explain the coroner's verdict that Kraft was dead before he hit the water.

Night had fallen when the march back to the highway began. As the girl passed the grave, she fell to her knees and muttered a prayer. She was led over the rough ground to a negro tenant's cottage, where she was given coffee.

Suddenly and silently a detective laid a bedroom slipper on her lap. With a shriek she buried the slipper across the room, jumped up and fought the cops and walls in an effort to escape.

It was a slipper worn by Jack Kraft and washed above with his body.

Then the investigators drove back to New Orleans, stating they were convinced the girl knows more than she has told about the tragedy.

The case will be laid before the grand jury Saturday.

Register Today Or Saturday

Today and Saturday are the last two days of registration for the November election. If you are not registered you cannot vote at the fall election. The polls will remain open until 10 o'clock this evening. Saturday morning the polls will open at 7 o'clock and close at 10 o'clock that evening.

Hair Almost Indestructible
All mammals are supplied with hair, although the quality varies greatly. It may be of the softest down hardly perceptible on the child's cheek or the tough bristles of the hog or the quills of the porcupine. The hair is the last part of the body to decay, is believed to grow even after death, and is known to last a century. In a Chicago bank window display of Indian relics, there is exhibited a woman's scalp taken by some Indian more than 100 years ago. The hair shows no effects of age. It is not dissimilar in color and in texture to the short tresses of any modern girl's. Even when exposed to the elements, hair will not deteriorate, and can be dissolved only by heat under pressure or in the presence of alkalis or acids.

Long Enough
After an hour or more, Pat, the new clerk in the animal store, was becoming exceedingly irritated at the fastidiousness of his customer.
Dog after dog had been brought from its kennel and exhibited to the man, its points discussed, and the price fixed, but something was wrong with each of them.
Finally Pat brought a dachshund.
The customer turned away in disgust.
"His legs are too short," he said bitterly.
"Too short, are they?" cried Pat, now thoroughly roused. "Shure, they reach the ground, don't they?"

Not Encouraging
The motorcyclist was on unfamiliar ground, and directly before him was a fork in the road, with no signpost to tell him which way to go.
"Which way to Stumpville?" he asked a dejected looking man who was leaning against a fence.
The man waved his hand towards the left.
"Thanks," said the motorcyclist. "How far is it?"
"Twint far," was the drawing reply. "When you get there you'll wish it was a darn sight farther."—Weekly Scotsman.

Analyzing Law
The true view, as I submit, is that the law is what the judges declare, that statutes, precedents, the opinions of learned experts, customs and morality are the sources of the law; that lack of everything lie the opinions of the ruling spirits of the community, who have the power to close any of these sources; but that as long as they do not interfere, judges, in establishing law, have recourse to these sources.—John Chipman Gray.

Testimony In Action to Recover

down because of the heavy smell of liquor on Platt's breath.
Trooper Norton on Stand.
The last to testify Thursday was Trooper John P. Norton, who investigated the accident. He stated that he found one skid mark on the road and estimated by pacing, that the car had gone about 15 or 20 feet. He did not have to complete the investigation, there being another Trooper with him who did that. He later saw Platt at the doctor's in Phoenixia, and said that the plaintiff's breath smelled of liquor. His conversation concerning Platt's condition was not admitted as testimony. Judge Russell at this time adjourned the case until this morning.
The defense has one more witness, after which the case will be summed up and the charge made to the jury.

Driver of Car Called.
Shortly before the noon recess Thursday plaintiff's testimony was concluded and the defendant's son, Bouse Bennett, 22 years old, driver of the car involved in the accident, was called. He testified that Plaintiff Platt was driving on the highway as he rounded a curve in the road and the first he saw of the wagon was when he was about 25 or 30 feet away. At that time the wagon was diagonally across the road. He applied the brakes, his car struck the wagon and then skidded to the left of the road and turned around in the road coming to a stop about a car length from the point of impact and headed in the direction from which he had been driving.
At the time he was driving toward Pine Hill with Miss Evelyn Frazier, 14 years old, and Miss Sarah Roberts, 18 years old, in the front seat with him. He was on his way from his home in Phoenixia to pick up Miss Frazier's sister, whom he has since married, and attend an entertainment at Pine Hill. Mr. Bennett denied that his car had been moved after the accident until the State Trooper gave him permission. Then he backed it up and parked it in the Fox Hollow road. As he attempted to stop his car he stalled the motor and after the car came to a stop it was still in gear but the motor had stalled. He traveled about 10 or 12 feet after the impact. He testified he remained at the scene but owing to a flat tire had been unable to take the injured man to a doctor. His car was not in front of the Van Keuren store but up past the Fox Hollow bridge when it stopped.
The witness said after the impact he saw but one man. He noticed an object on the roadway but it was too dark to see what it was until he took a flashlight and turned it on and discovered it was a man. It was a moonlight night but there were clouds and at times it was dark. He also examined the skid marks with the aid of a flashlight after the accident. The witness testified that he saw a man near the bridge at a distance of 200 feet and saw him raise his hand 100 feet away and signal the car to stop.

Cross examination was reserved until the afternoon session.

Weather Man Testifies.
Mr. James H. Starr, U. S. weather man at New York, was called to testify to the extent of moonlight on December 24, 1923. He said the moon was full two days later. He also testified that the sun set that night in New York at 4:33 and a little earlier here. The moon arose that date at 2:24 p. m.

During the morning several additional witnesses were sworn by plaintiff including Mr. Herdman who said it was so light he drove his car down there. He asked Bennett why he did not take the injured man to a doctor and was told his car was broken down. Platt the witness said had been moved before he arrived from the place where he understood he was after the accident. He picked up Platt's cap over the fence on the right of the road near where foot marks were on the road. Platt was taken to Dr. Gross's office at Phoenixia and a taxi secured there and the injured man taken to the hospital. He saw skid marks and glass on the road near where the cap was found. The defense continued after the noon recess.

PHILLIPS FAMILY HAS MANY COPS

Members Are on Forces of Three Nations.

COLUMBIA, Ohio.—Some families run to money; others run to grief. But the Phillips family of Columbia, Ohio, has a different kind of money. The family has three sons who are police officers. The sons are: John A. Phillips, a police officer in the Cincinnati Police Department; John B. Phillips, a police officer in the Columbus Police Department; and John C. Phillips, a police officer in the Cleveland Police Department. The family has three sons who are police officers.

with the Dr. James H. Spook case here. The three brothers reside on the same street. John is married, and John and Leo are fathers. Immediately, their father, John A. Phillips of Pomeroy, Ohio, was cut out of the case. He became a member of the Pomeroy merchant police. Rank of Pomeroy, where the brothers were born, is 601 Tuckling Mill, Pomeroy, Ohio. That is the Phillips family seat. From there the brothers' uncle, Tom A. Phillips, entered Scotland Yard. For 25 years he has been an inspector. Three other relatives are members of the Canadian "mounties." One is an inspector, another a sergeant, and the third a corporal. Leo, the youngest, had major league baseball possibilities. He had been in the Mississippi Valley league, the Western league, and with Salisbury, N. C., in a Southern circuit. The Pittsburgh Pirates held an option on him while in the latter berth. "I like baseball, and I like the thought of police work," Leo said. "There wasn't much to choose between them, but I guess the old fan by high was out." Sugar doesn't always sweeten pain. Nobody so wants control as the person with no self-control. In the school of experience you are never graduated. You are tutored. Many a professional funny man doesn't know how silly funny he really is. We often wonder what Necessity, looking over some of the inventions, thinks of her children.

"Red" Mosher Cannot Fight

Jack, "Red" Mosher of Newburgh cannot fight at the armory tonight. A telegram ordering Captain E. C. Lawson to cancel Mosher's 10 round engagement with Al Lamont of New York was received here at noon. It came from Colonel J. A. S. Mundy, head of the National Guard boxing commission, who has challenged Mosher's enlistment, claiming that he has not been in the Guard long enough to permit him to fight. Mosher had been a member of the outfit for some time, but a recent re-enlistment makes him ineligible. Who will take his place on the card is not known. Matchmaker Jimmy Ambrose in communication with Captain Lawson several times today was unable to get a man to New York. If a formidable opponent cannot be located by Ambrose, Joe Vondick, who is training for a "big shot" will be the substitute. Vondick claims that he can lick Mosher and Lamont in the same ring. "That's just a joke, about stuffing a handkerchief into my face, isn't it?" asked the nervous victim. "Yeh," said the bouncer, "it's just a gag."

"Sectionalism," says a Virginia thinker, "is the curse of the country." This is absolutely true: A drug store pie, cut in 12 pieces, is too sectional. Register or Lose Your Vote. Today and Saturday are the last registration days. Register or lose your vote. Polls open until 10 p. m.

Take YOUR family to the North Woods tonight

Serve them something new—something different! Bean Hole Beans! The old-time lumber cooks seal choice beans and pork, sweetened with brown sugar and molasses, in a great, iron pot—bury it underground in fragrant, glowing embers in the "bean hole." Never were beans so delicious as with this "baked-in-the-ground" flavor.

give you this same distinctive "outdoors" flavor of the North Woods cooking. Van Camp food experts choose the choicest beans and sugar-cured pork, add just the right amount of brown sugar and molasses and send you this—the finest beans ever sold.

Easy to try—just empty the can in a buttered baking dish—in the oven for 20 minutes. Then the crisp, luscious, brown beans of the North Woods are ready for the most appetizing meal you can serve. Two sizes, medium, 15c; large, 25c.

Armory Bouts Tonight Promise Action Galore

The second indoor boxing show of the season, featuring some of the National Guards' best ringmen, will be staged at the local armory tonight, the first bout going on at 8:30 p. m.

Tommy Long of this city and Tom Buckley of New York will be opponents in the curtain raiser, scheduled for four rounds. Both are anxious to decide the match in an impressive manner, so the battle promises to end in short order. The two will bring Long before the fans for the first time.

Roy Van Buren of this city, planning a strong comeback among soldier boxers, is matched with Joe Grosso, the stocky little Newburgher, who fought a draw with Roy several months ago. Tonight's fight is to settle the ring dispute. Van Buren is of the opinion that it will be in his favor. Anyway, he is in good shape and promises to be in the milling every minute of the four rounds.

Two ten-round bouts will bring together Al Lamont of the 369th Infantry and a formidable opponent, also Sid Reiser. "The Yonkers Kid" Chocolate of the Armory, who won two matches promise plenty of action. Roy Asher of Highland Falls and Soldier Pott of New York will clash in a six rounder.

The 34 rounds of boxing will be witnessed by a large assemblage of fans, according to ticket sales. Armory bouts are creating much interest hereabouts, the first show of the season drawing over 900 to the drill shed.

RED SHIELD QUINTET TO ENTER COURT RACE

The Red Shield basketball team, which as representatives of the Salvation Army made an enviable record on basketball courts hereabouts for the past several years, will toss its challenge into the ring of competition early this season with a lineup that promises to live up to the quintet's good standing.

Victor Till, former George Washington High School player, who was famous as the tallest center in scholastic circles, will jump center for the Red Shields, it is said. He now lives at Saugerties. The rest of the team will be made up of Tommy Davitt, Stan Colvin, Harold Smith, Bob Zelle, Ken Hyatt and George Lipschitz.

H. Audchetsky of 89 North Front street will book the team. He will be glad to receive challenges from clubs of this vicinity.

COLONIALS GET READY FOR BASKETBALL SEASON

The Kingston Colonial basketball team went through a practice session at Salvation Army Hall Thursday night and gave Manager Wardington confidence that his team will be successful during the coming season. Another practice will be held next Thursday.

In the Colonial lineup will be Andy Gilday, George Dawkins, Ed Gilday, Bill Leary, Harold Smith, Al Rouse, George Sagendorf and A. McBride. Ernest Luedtke, who managed the Red Sox basketball team, will book games for the Colonials.

The team will hold a moonlight and confetti dance in White Eagle Hall on November 12.

Dwight Defeated.

Frenchy Dwight of this city lost a hard fought battle to Pete Larrazza Thursday night at the White Plains armory. It was the eighth round semi-final and one of the snappiest bouts on the card. Dwight will fight in White Plains within two weeks. Harry Mulcahy will be his opponent.

Yellow Jackets Ready For West Point Cavalry

Captain Jole Hoffman's Yellow Jackets are ready to assume the heavy assignment of contesting against the West Point Cavalry at the Fair Grounds Sunday at 3 p. m. The local boys have made strong preparations for the husky colored team, which they hope to overcome in spectacular fashion.

A week of hard drilling under the guidance of Coaches Preston and Wheeler will have a great bearing on the Jackets in their game it is hoped. The Kingstonians are working more methodically than in their first two weeks of organization, which proves that fans will see a better brand of football when the locals meet the Cavalry.

K. H. S. Plays Middletown Team Here Saturday

Kingston High School varsity football team will meet against Middletown at the Fair Grounds Saturday afternoon at 2:30 with grim fate hovering near and ready to snatch the first DUSO League game from its grasp.

Several reverses hit the Kingston team hard during the past week, so the eleven who smashed its way to a 51-0 victory over Spring Valley and a 12-0 win over Albany Academy, will be handicapped for the game that really means something.

Eddie Minasian, Kingston's snap quarterback, will not be in the game. He injured his ankle in practice Tuesday evening. This is the one great loss that faces the team. Jones and Wilbur, who play ends, will be out. The former tore the ligaments in his shoulder and Wilbur has a fractured collarbone.

Vince Pretzsch, who featured the Spring Valley game with his carrying the ball around the ends and running back punts, is laid up for the season. He received the worst injury that has so far befallen any member of the squad. Pretzsch has a fractured right leg.

Regardless of its handicap, the Kingston eleven will enter the contest with plenty of fighting spirit and a strong determination to win. The local attitude promises to make the Middletown play their best brand of football and it is said that they can do just that.

Kingston's probable lineup is as follows: Gaddis and Fuchsle, ends; Clarke and Thompson, tackles; Rouse and Ballinck, guards; Mohr, center; Watts, fullback; Dann and Parks, halfbacks. It has not even been suggested who will fill Minasian's berth at quarter.

PUNTS and PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

West Point, N. Y.—If Army loses to Harvard this week, it won't be for lack of practice. The Cadets used their regular mess hour yesterday for a final drill before leaving for Cambridge.

New York—For the first time in several seasons Columbia has a full team of regulars ready to start a major game. Costigan and Tye, who have been out with injuries, are in condition to play against Dartmouth Saturday. In its important contests for the past few years, Columbia has been hampered by injuries.

Pittsburgh—Elmer Layden finally has found a use for the co-ed, usually one of a football coach's major troubles. He has taught Duquesne's feminine cheer leaders his penalty code and they signal the plays and penalties to the crowd.

Boston—The West Point Cadets Corps will have a nice souvenir of the Harvard game this week. When they reach here, Governor Allen will present the Cadets with 12 gold spearheads to use on their color standards.

Philadelphia—Lou Young, Pennsylvania coach, says he thinks Penn's superior speed will beat California Saturday. Nibs Price of the Golden Bears is saying nothing but he gave his team a two-hour drill yesterday.

Providence, R. I.—Brown will have a hard time this week to keep Yale from spotting a pass or kick. Link Fogarty, Brown's only good passer, is unable to kick on account of a hurt foot, while Edwards, who is filling the punting assignment, finds it necessary to remove his headgear before booting one.

Princeton—Three regulars will be missing from the Princeton line when the Tigers take the field against Cornell Saturday. Captain Jack White will be kept out of his third game of the year by injuries and Moore and Meares have joined him on the sidelines.

Scouts Prefer End Seats.

Durham, N. C. (AP)—Football customers yell for sideline seats, but football scouts prefer to watch the game from an end of the field seat so they can observe play formations. So the box for scouts at Duke University is at the end of the field.

It will be a tough proposition to keep on even terms with the colored boys. They are considered among the best gridiron performers at the Point. They have a number of trick plays mastered and can play straight football to perfection.

When Referee Victor L. Oleson blows the starting whistle Sunday the teams are expected to be lined up as follows: Yellow Jackets—Scheffel and Rice, ends; Terwilliger and Whicky, tackles; Winkley and Rose, guards; Howard, center; Stumpf, quarterback; Hoffman and Strinsky, halfbacks; Chapman, fullback. Cavalry—Foster and Benefield, ends; Johnson and Smith, tackles; O'Neil, center; Long, guards; Ellis, center; Blanford, quarterback; Foote and Jackson, halfbacks; Brown, fullback.

Bob Shawkey to Manage Yankees

New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—Unofficially released by the club two years ago, Bob Shawkey, the ex-sailor, has been named manager of the New York Yankees, leaderless since the death three weeks ago of Miller J. Huggins.

A great right-handed pitcher in his day, coach of the Yankees during the last season, Shawkey never had had any managerial experience. He signed a one-year contract to manage the club several days ago but announcement was withheld by Colonel Jacob Ruppert, club president, until yesterday. Shawkey now is in Quebec on a hunting trip.

Shawkey's selection surprised the experts who had expected either Arthur Fletcher, Yankee coach, or Hub Conner, president of the St. Paul club of the American Association, would be named to the post. It turned out that Fletcher had been offered the job but had declined with thanks, saying he did not want to manage the Yankees or any other club.

The offer was made to and accepted by Shawkey. Fletcher will continue to coach the team.

Colonel Ruppert said the new manager had been selected solely on the basis of advice given some time ago by Huggins. Some five years ago, Colonel Ruppert said, he and Huggins had discussed a possible successor to Huggins in the event of his retirement or disability.

Huggins recommended Fletcher, then manager of the Philadelphia Nationals, and Fletcher later came to the club as coach with the idea of club officials that he would carry on should Huggins have to quit.

After Shawkey's days as an active player were over, Huggins advised him to the payroll as a coach, especially of pitchers. "Bob the Gob" was Huggins' second choice as his successor.

Shawkey was born in Brookfield, Pa., December 4, 1890. He began his professional baseball career with the Harrisburg club of the old Tri-State League in 1911, came up to the Philadelphia Athletics the following year but was optioned to Baltimore for that year and most of the next. He rejoined the A's in 1913 and then was traded to the New York Yankees in 1915 for Jack Warhop, E. Cottrell and a sizeable amount of cash. He remained with the Yankees through the season of 1927. He pitched in five world's series, one, in 1914, with the Athletics and four with the Yankees.

He was unconditionally released in November, 1927, and went to the Montreal club of the International League as a pitcher and coach. He came back to the Yankees as coach at the start of the season just closed.

WORLD SERIES REFUND TO BE ABOUT $2,000,000

Chicago, Oct. 18 (AP)—About $75,000, only a small part of the total, has been refunded by the Chicago National League baseball club to holders of tickets for the sixth, and unnecessary game of the world series.

While there was a steady stream of persons seeking refunds yesterday, those who have money coming from the Cub management, failed to show as much enthusiasm about getting their money as they did when sending in their orders. The total to be refunded is about $2,000,000, including taxes.

REIGH COUNT'S TRAINER QUILTS J. D. ERIZ STABLES

Chicago, Oct. 18 (AP)—B. S. Mitchell, one of the most widely known trainers of thoroughbred horses in the country, has severed his connection with the racing stable of John D. Eriz.

Mitchell took charge of the Hertz stable in 1927, and within a few weeks prepared Anita Peabody to win the $100,000 futurity at Belmont. He followed this accomplishment with victories with Belgin Count in the Kentucky derby, Saratoga Cup and Jockey Club Gold Cup races, which gave Reigh Count the American championship.

He indicated he would purchase a farm in California and breed and race his own thoroughbreds.

Tigers Win.

The Union Street Tigers defeated the Meagher All-Stars in a hard fought football game Wednesday afternoon at Hasbrouck Park. The score was 6-0. Markle and Derrenbacher starred for the winners. Proctor and Cullen did the best work in the Meagher backfield. The Tigers' line was made up of Levine, Kantowitz, Swartz and Larkin. Meagher, Senor and Gallon did the best work on the losers' line. The teams will play another game next Monday at 4 p. m.

Jockey Active at 78.

La Crosse, Kas. (AP)—At the age of 78, Levi Burlingame still competes with jockeys one-fourth his years. His son, Charlie, who rode "big time" circuits a few years ago, was forced to retire when he exceeded the weight limit.

Nobs Price, football coach at California, views the coming battles of the gridiron: "I think the coming season will be one of the greatest ever played on the Pacific Coast. Every team is likely to be better."

According to a new ruling of the American Bowling congress, effective during the 1929-30 season, no bowler who is not a member of a sanctioned organization will be allowed to participate in tournaments or leagues.

Joseph Bower, Oil City (Pa.) student-manager of the University of Pittsburgh football squad, is a World war veteran. He served for 13 months overseas. Bower called at the age of sixteen in a motor transport unit.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould, (Associated Press Sports Editor.)

One of the most interesting of the debates left over by the world's series concerns the speed of Grover, southpaw ace of the Athletics, and how it compares with the fire of other famous sharpshooters.

The series display of pitching settled at least one portion of the argument that has been going on for some time. Nothing that any other twirler on either team showed could compare with the sheer speed that Grover let loose at several stages of the series. Before-hand, it was debated whether Earnshaw or Walberg of the A's did not have a faster ball than Grover, or whether Root and Malone of the Cubs might not display more zip. Before the assembled board of critics, Grover put on an exhibition that settled all this.

Yet it is difficult to convince any number of old timers that Grover is as fast as Walter Johnson or Cy Young or Amos Rusie or Rube Waddell or Dazzy Vance, when the dazzler was in his prime a few years ago.

"Grove is different from all the rest in the way he shoots the ball, without any exaggerated windup or appearance of bearing down or sidarm motion, such as Johnson used," declared George Moriarty, the old Detroit star and now an umpire. Moriarty batted against most of the old-time American League speed kings but he hesitates to say which was the faster.

"I batted against Cy Young when he was supposed to be nearly through but he tossed a few past me before I knew it," said Moriarty. "If he was that good then, I wondered what he might have had in his prime."

"Waddell had tremendous strength, a broad shoulders, and more of a sweeping delivery than Grover, who seems to snap the ball. Johnson threw bullets past the boys for a long time."

Vance has lost some of the hop on his fast one but as recently as two years ago Rogers Hornsby told me there was no doubt whatever in his mind that when the Dazzler turned it on, he had more speed than any other twirler in the National League.

Tommy Loughran was in the press-box the day that the Athletics gave their famous "count of ten," the knockout, to the Cubs at Shibe Park. "I know how GROGGY the Cubs must feel after that one," said Tommy as he recalled the wallop that had him dazed and "out on his feet" the night he fought Jack Sharkey in another ball park, the Yankee Stadium.

Before the gridiron season is over, the combination of Red Cagle and John Hertz Murrel of the Army likely will be as famous as the Grange-Britton duo that starred for Illinois a few years ago. Murrel, plunger, punter and interfeer, has been fitting in as effectively with the more elusive Cagle as Britton did in teaming with the illustrious Illinois redhead in 1923, '24 and '25.

One of the main differences is that Cagle has a distinct aversion to scoring touchdowns, unless there is no other way to avoid it on a long run. The Army redhead and captain apparently has no ambition to see his name in the list of high-scorers, even though it might be easy for him to do it. Repeatedly he has called on Murrel to carry the ball over after himself putting it in a convenient position for the dash over the final stripe.

Sport Notes

Pitcher Jimmy Walkup of Fort Worth is left-handed, but he doesn't walk many batters. In fifteen recent games he issued thirteen passes.

More facilities for municipal golfers are being provided in Baltimore as fast as workmen can do the job. The new Hillside course is being enlarged nine holes this fall.

The National bank bills are also coming out in small sizes, and if some one told us that John L. Sullivan's picture appeared on the $10,000 issue we'd have to believe that, too.

Football is making strides forward in Hawaii. The game is so popular that the native boys play in their bare feet and manage to kick about as well as their cousins across the water.

Fairy Story: "Well," remarked the football fan, "as long as I have tickets for six games this fall, I might as well sit down and master the 1929 rules. Then I will know what it is all about."

Both the Villanova college and New York university football elevens wear numbers on the front and back of their jerseys so that fans can identify the players during the games this fall.

Leo Diegel, professional golf champion of the United States and Canada, got his start in the game as a caddy at the age of nine and was breaking 99 by the time he was thirteen.

Mike Gibbons once fought 15 furious rounds at St. Paul, Minn., and received $22.50 as his share of the gate receipts. A few days later he was fined $25 for violating the anti-fight law.

An observer says 70 per cent of the members of congress play golf at some time or other in the year. It would be interesting to see the log-rollers conceding one another the 40-fact snail.

Yale's 140 Pound Back Sets The Pace In East

ALBIE BOOTH

In Albie Booth, Yale has uncovered one of those rare players who can run the team and do everything that has to be done in a big time backfield.

New Haven, Conn. (AP)—A small, almost frail, player is one of the pacemakers in eastern football this fall. His name is Albie Booth.

This 140-pound youngster is playing his first year at Yale. He already has overshadowed the veterans who have been doing varsity duty for two years.

Booth can pass, he can punt and

Why the Cubs Lost.

Chicago, Oct. 19 (AP)—The way of the Cubs' defeat by the Athletics in the world series has been explained by no less an authority than Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball. Mr. Landis spoke at a meeting of business men. "Everyone knows why the Cubs lost," he explained. "It was because they didn't play as well as Connie Mack's men."

Busy Year For Local Architects

Teller and Halverson Prepare Plans For a Number of Construction Jobs in Ulster and Nearby Places. Contracts have been let for a school and hall building property to be erected for William Traver Fuller on a lot formerly a portion of the Mrs. Williams Carter estate on Albany avenue. Plans for the house were prepared by Messrs. Teller and Halverson, architects of this city, and the various contracts have been awarded as follows:

Masonry and carpentry to Griffl Herrick of Woodstock. Electrical work to Roswell Coles of this city. Plumbing and heating to Weber & Walter and painting to C. Arthur Dossou of this city.

The house will be heated with gas and will be completely equipped with all modern conveniences. Teller and Halverson have also prepared plans for a number of other substantial construction jobs in Ulster county and nearby places. Among the contracts which are now under construction under the supervision of the same firm of architects is the new old Colonial brick residence now under construction at Englewood, N. Y., for Charles D. Brown, formerly of this city.

A group of buildings consisting of a manor house, garage, chauffeur's quarters, stable and servants' quarters are being constructed for the estate of William E. Bruyn at Brunswick, Ulster county. This group of buildings is of stone and frame in the early Colonial style of architecture.

Another job of considerable magnitude is at Woodbourne, New York, where Teller and Halverson are supervising the construction of a Colonial frame residence after their plans for Peter A. Smith of New York city. C. W. Jones and Henry E. Weber are the contractors for this work and Roswell Coles is doing the electrical work.

The Board of Education of the new high school district at New Paltz has commissioned Teller & Halverson their architects for the proposed new high school building which will be erected at New Paltz village. Work on this project will be taken up as early as possible.

In the work for the new Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital Charles S. Keefe, architect, formerly of this city, will be associated with Teller & Halverson. Plans for this project are now in the hands of contractors for bids and these bids must be in by October 31 when the building committee of the Board of Supervisors will meet and open bids and act upon same. The site selected for the hospital building is known as the Keyhole, a high hill situated in the city limit just off the Boulevard where it will be within easy access for visitors to the hospital as well as those in attendance there. While in a secluded place the site is not isolated by distance from the business portion of the city and is considered an ideal location for such an institution.

Another job which has been under the supervision of the same firm of architects is the new oil station of the Newcombe Oil Company at the corner of Broadway and Delaware avenue. This station, which is one of the most attractive in the city, is now nearing completion. These and other projects which are now in the process of development assure Teller and Halverson a busy year.

French Town Center of World's Perfume Supply
It is in the belt of sun-soaked fields stretching from Cannes to Nice, France, where the true flowers wage incessant war against the coarse chemical odors of Germany.

The French are the world's expert perfumers. The little town of Grasse, tucked away in the heart of the Maritime Alps, is the most famous center of the industry, where all the perfumes of Europe are born. From January to December the rustic work by a sort of floral calendar, for flowers bloom in their millions the whole year through.

Violets, jonquills, narcissus, golden mimosa, magnolia, spice-laden carnations, geranium, orange flower, lavender, spanish broom, tuberose and aracia with its blossoms of orange caterpillars.

Most of all, from May to July, the rose holds sway—then jasmine queens it. Jasmine, the only scent that cannot be obtained by a cunning mixture of other flower odors; jasmine, when mixed, often produces profound depression and exhaustion.

There are gardens everywhere, with millions of flowers for the making of scent.

The quantities are indeed stupendous. During September, anything up to a thousand tons of lavender, aspic and tuberose blossoms are collected and distilled. The average weight of blossoms gathered in a single summer is about 6,000 tons. Several million flowers are required to make a ton, so that the total number of flowers may be anything up to sixty thousand million!

The devoted old lady was doing her best to stand up for the vicar against a group of hostile parishioners.

"He never preaches the same sermon more than once," she declared. "He does!" contradicted one of her opponents. "I've heard him preach one sermon no less than four times."

Tears welled up in the brave little woman's eyes.

"Well, at any rate," she said, "he always thumps on the pulpit in different places—London, D.D.B.A."

Students Supporting Football. According to a report made by Mr. Woodward, faculty treasurer of the Athletic Association, a large number of tickets were sold to the students for last Saturday's game, in fact it was the largest number sold since the Poughkeepsie game last season. The students realize a good team represents them and they are supporting it.

The season tickets which were sold by the Varsity Letter Club members proved to be poor sellers. The tickets were being offered at a very reasonable price but the number sold was far below that which was expected.
